REFLECTION FOR THE FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME: Fr Carlo

Jesus continues His sermon on the mount that started with the Beatitudes last Sunday. Notice the beautiful transition from last week's "Blessed are you when they insult you and persecute you and utter every kind of evil against you falsely because of me" to this week's "You are the salt of the earth."

Jesus uplifts us today for all our love and sacrifices this week. Every time we give ourselves in love and service, when we choose to do what is right and just, when we would rather be merciful and peaceful, we make more impact in the world like the salt that makes food taste better. Salt purifies and preserves food that, in ancient times, denotes life. Salt also points to eternal life because it preserves against corruption, the most dreaded of which is death; hence, in ancient times, people who dined together ate salt during the meal to signify their bond and friendship beyond this life. Every good deed we perform in this life not only leaves an impact here but leads us to heaven too.

We are called salt of the earth not for our own sake. Anyone truly wishing to serve must forget one's self and, like Saint Paul, come "in weakness and fear and much trembling," relying more on the "power of God" (1 Corinthians 2:3 and 5) than on their own wisdom and abilities. People who try so hard to make an impact in the world with their own abilities do get noticed for some time. But they eventually fizz out and, worse, fall into shame and oblivion. Those who work in silence and obscurity are the ones who affect others much in this world because their good deeds and kindness continue through others—they are simply doing the work of God. Power that truly transforms people and nations come only from God despite human weakness and limitations.

Lord, teach us to be like the salt of the earth by dissolving our pride and be like the light of the world by diffusing our self-centeredness. Amen.
